For 90 years now, the name 'Pininfarina' has stood for first class Italian design. Pininfarina is the synonym for an unmistakable style particularly with automobiles like Ferrari and Maserati. But the designs also lend themselves to architecture and other forms of transportation like yachts. Recognized as one of the largest design studios in the world, Pininfarina has a history with Schaefer Yachts and continues to create design options for Schaefer yacht models. Schaefer Yachts and Pininfarina share the same passion for product design with beauty and state-of-the-art technology.

There is no question that having a new yacht can be very rewarding, however the costs and responsibilities of operating it can be overwhelming. Based in the Great Lakes area, YACHT Solutions now makes the Schaefer Yacht products readily available to clients. Backed with a full yacht management program, they are introducing an improved way to purchase this type of luxury yacht. "It's the ultimate try it before you buy it program available" says founder Gregory Marlo. "Imagine going to a luxury car dealership and asking if you can test drive one of their nicest cars for a month or two, in order to make an intelligent buying decision". Not likely possible.

Using their convenient Fractional Yacht Program, the new boat buyer can now enjoy the purchase process with no compromises. Have a boat to sell, another to order? Yet you want a boat to use every step of the way which could take awhile, as the lead time to build a yacht can be several months. YACHT Solutions provides a seamless step by step process so that no time or resources are wasted, and the client will always have a boat available. There is a distinct advantage of having your new boat built with the exact options you want, perhaps even visit the factory during the building process and consider doing a sea trial in beautiful Brazil before it gets shipped back home. As a Schaefer Yacht Dealership, more flexibility in buying & selling a boat is offered than ever before.

YACHT Solutions also offer an Intelligent Ownership program for their owners that generates revenue, not unlike the business jet industry or private yacht world where owners look to offset costs when they are not using the aircraft or boat. An owner maintains most of the major benefits of yacht ownership without the high cost, day to day responsibilities and complications. Late model yachts will be available in the Greater Toronto Area this summer. Owners save valuable time and money, while eliminating risks and stress.

If you are thinking about upgrading your boat or getting into the yachting lifestyle, this just may be one of the best programs available. For more information on what is available now, contact them.
